Senator Cecile Bledsoe, Co-Chair Representative Jeff Wardlaw, Co-Chair Arkansas Legislative Council Arkansas General Assembly State Capitol Little Rock, AR 72201

Dear Co-Chairs:

Eight months ago, I came before this committee to present a budget for the coming fiscal year, not knowing that the COVID-19 pandemic was about to hit. Since that time, we have cut more than half a billion in spending and focused on the core priorities of education, public safety, and healthcare.

While we continue to fight the pandemic, today's budget will fully fund state operations and will continue the priorities and momentum of my administration. It will fund productivity within our institutions of higher education, meet the recommendations of the legislative educational adequacy committee, and see the largest increase in public school funding in more than a decade.

This budget also continues my administration's commitment to lower the tax burden on working Arkansans. It allows us to not just absorb cuts adopted in prior years, but also sets aside $50 million for low and middle income tax relief. This includes a plan to reduce sales taxes on vehicles priced less than $10,000 and introduces a new measure, one that offers a lower income tax rate to new Arkansans, and will assist in recruiting workforce to our state.

Additionally, this budget presents a plan for the use of $240.9 million which we have accumulated in surplus funds. This includes funding to continue our investment in statewide broadband and educational facilities.

It also includes an investment in the future of our state. When I took office, the balance in the Long-Term Reserve was zero. Today, the balance is $185 million. With my budget today, I will be presenting a plan that will see that balance rise to at least $420 million by the end of the biennium.

This budget provides continued funding for our crisis stabilization units and our public safety needs, from the crime lab to state police vehicles.

Finally, as a result of our work together to transform state government, the budget identifies $26.5 million in reductions to state agencies. This is the result of reducing the number of state employees through attrition (858 in FY 2020) and the increased efficiencies from shared resources.

Sincerely,

Asa Hutchinson
